FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

Re: Ex Parte Presentation Regarding MM Docket Nos. 02-277; 01-235; 01-317; 00-244 (multiple ownership rulemaking)

Dear Ms. Dortch:

Waterman Broadcasting Corp. (“Waterman”), Montclair Communications, Inc. (“Montclair”), Chelsey Broadcasting Company, LLC (“Chelsey”), LIN Television Corporation (“LIN”), and Raycom Media, Inc. (“Raycom”), conducted a round of visits on Wednesday and Thursday with the offices of several Commissioners to discuss the television duopoly rule which is at stake in the above Multiple Ownership Notice of Proposed Rule Making.

Representing Waterman were Bernard Waterman, its owner, Steve Pontius, its Executive President and General Manager. In the absence of its owner and Chief Executive Officer, Lara Kunkler, who is nine months pregnant, Montclair was represented by its communications attorney, Peter Tannewald. Representing Chelsey was Paul Goodman, its Chief Executive Officer. Representing LIN was Gregory Schmidt, Vice President of New Development and General Counsel. Raycom was to have been represented by Paul McTear, President and Chief Executive Officer, and Rebecca Bryan, Vice President and General Counsel, but air transportation problems prevented their participation. The undersigned is counsel to all but Montclair. Messrs. Waterman and Schmidt could not attend the May 22 meetings.

The discussions on May 21 were held with Commissioner Abernathy and her legal advisor, Stacey Robinson. The discussions on May 22 were held with Susan Eid, legal advisor to the Chairman and summer intern Amanda Strainis-Walker; and Catherine Bohigian, legal advisor to Commissioner Martin. Copies of handouts used in connection with these meetings are attached to this ex parte letter. The group said that it was representative of the stations and communities that have been left out of the new duopoly rule apparently proposed by the Commission's staff. Small and mid-sized market stations will not survive without duopoly relief or they will have to reduce or eliminate local news services and other community-based services. Greater relaxation of the rules is necessary to preserve voices, where as the top-four station restriction in the proposed rule would weaken or eliminate voices -- the exact opposite effect of what is desired.

An original and three copies of this ex parte letter and handouts used at the meetings that were presented to the staff at the meetings are being filed with the Secretary's Office in compliance with the Commission's rules.

Respectfully submitted,

Jonathan D. Blake

FACT SHEET

- In markets 51-175, the average cash flow for the lowest rated station affiliated with one of the big four networks decreased 41% from 1997 to 2001. In markets 176-210 the financial picture is presumably weaker. (Source: 1/02/03 Comments of NAB, Attachment C)
- In markets 51-175, the average pre-tax profits for the lowest rated station affiliated with one of the big four networks fell from $2,428,803 to ($2,820,270) between 1997 to 2001. In markets 176-210 the financial picture is presumably weaker. (Source: 1/02/03 Comments of NAB, Attachment C)
- In markets 51-175, only 15 of 125 markets would have six voices, post-merger. [This data comes from NAB's 3/15 ex parte filing and only includes commercial and religious stations, not public stations. The data does not include LMAs as one voice.] (Source: 3/15/03 NAB ex parte filing)
- According to Media General filing, forty local broadcast stations made cutbacks in their local news coverage in the period between November 1998 and October 2002. (1/02/03 Comments of Media General, Appendix 3, Attachment B)
- Of smaller stations (represented by UPN and WB affiliates) in markets 50-100, only 30% in non-duopoly, non-LMA stations are broadcasting in digital, compared with 55.6% that are subject to LMAs or duopolies. (Source: 1/02/03 Comments of Coalition Broadcasters)
- Of smaller stations (represented by UPN and WB affiliates) in markets 50-100, every station in an LMA or duopoly that has been allotted a DTV channel has begun the transition. (Source: 1/02/03 Comments of Coalition Broadcasters)
